Bridge Bank’s Technology Banking Group provides financing solutions to companies in a variety of technology sectors, and at any stage in the growth cycle. From inception through IPO and beyond, we are a leading financial resource to companies nationwide who are focused on bringing new technologies to market.

DAVID SCHWARZBACH, COO and CFO, Optimizely

Balancing between the company’s needs and the need to manage risk is an art form – especially in the tech space – and the bank was very good at this.

Bridge Bank clients have time-honored ties with some of the strongest and most recognized financial institutions, both domestic and international. Together we have the expertise and the solutions, allowing you to better understand and improve your game. Whether your challenges are financial or operational or both, we are prepared to combine our resources and experience for a winning formula.

Venture Capital Relationships

Bridge Bank is deeply rooted in the business community, and highly networked with firms throughout the country who provide private equity and venture capital to companies seeking the financial resources to grow. We’re worked with a wide range of investors on deals of various sizes, and have connections and acquisitions to corporate buyers and IPOs. Yet, we remain committed to building relationships that endure beyond financial transactions.

Unique Debt Financing Solutions

It’s not just the financial products we offer that make us unique, although our capabilities match or exceed those of larger institutions. But rather it’s the way we structure them around each client’s unique situation that make Bridge Bank different than any other financial resource.
